

We sponsored LEGO Day at the Library

Libraries are more than books and technology.

- Our community's needs go beyond regular budgets for library books, librarian salaries and computers provided by the city.
- Story Time and other activities for children, scholarships and events for youth, author talks and presentations for adults, represent some of the community benefits funded by the Friends.
- In 2014 we supported twenty-six programs the Library hosted. These were attended by 1600 people.
- With your assistance, we can do even more.

Who We Are

About Us

Even libraries need friends. We support the Richmond Public Library's mission of bringing literacy, learning and cultural enrichment to the community.

Nature Program for Kids

Our Mission

We open doors of opportunity.

Reading and education are fundamental ways for people to reach their full potential.

Whether we are talking literacy, graduation rates or education levels, Richmond can do better.

Come join. Together, we will make a difference!

Our Commitment

Our charitable non-profit, all-volunteer organization has been helping the Richmond Public Library since 1982.

“I always imagined that paradise would be a library.”

- Jorge Luis Borges

“Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world.”

-Nelson Mandela. (Past President of South Africa)

Other Ways to Help:

Donate Books –

We are always looking for hard and soft cover books in good condition. Book sales are an essential part of our fundraising. You can drop books off at one of the libraries. Or call us if transportation is a problem.

Buy Books –

Come to the library and take advantage of bargain prices in the Friends’ section. That’s right – for $1 or $.50!

Volunteer –

Book sorters work to keep our Friends section of the library well stocked.

If you are talented in fundraising, publicity, grant writing, publishing/graphics, website design, let’s talk.
